Our First Year is in the Books! ~ Bev Pomeroy

I can't believe that our first year is complete!

We have accomplished so much! From May—Dec we trained over 80 people on how to use Narcan to save lives (distributing 160+ doses), we participated in 6 community events, we spoke with THOUSANDS of people about the dangers of mental health stigmas and substance dependency, we co-sponsored a 3 night drug education seminar series and so much more! None of this could have been done without YOUR help!!! Thank you for supporting our passions and please tell everyone you know about our mission to educate our community. Let's Go Live R.E.A.L. !

Employers can help prevent occupational opioid overdoses by educating their staff.

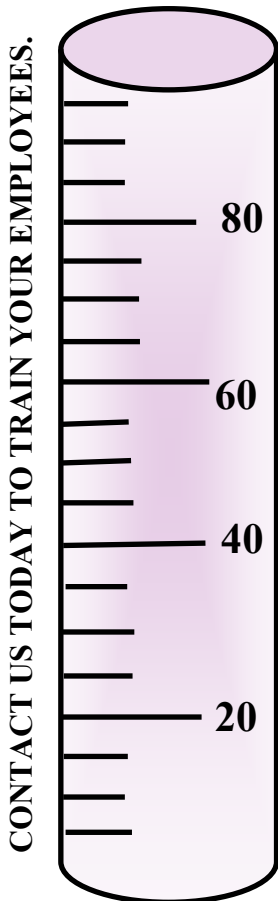

Do you own a business or know someone who does?

Live R.E.A.L. Foundation can come into your place of business and train your employees on how to stop an opioid overdose.

45 minute presentation and 2 doses of naloxone for each attendee, ALL for free!

Naloxone Trainings for 2022...

Let's fill this tube in Quarter One!

"In a 2019 report by Barclays Research that examined data from the Bureau of Labor Statistics and the National Institute on Drug Abuse, the bank's analysts said that opioid use in the U.S. has made workers in the industry less productive and has increased costs to the industry. While the precise number of overdose deaths in the North American construction industry is hard to determine, the workers are roughly six times more likely than workers in other manufacturing, industrial and service industries to become addicted to opioids, according to the report."

TIPS FOR EMPLOYERS TO CREATE A SAFER WORKPLACE

- Ensure there's chronic pain/surgery support for employees to reduce opioid use/abuse risk.
- Incorporate substance use disorder into campaigns to reduce mental health stigma.
- Encourage leaders to share their experiences with substance use disorder.
- Educate managers on the signs of emerging substance use disorder and equip them to make referrals for care.
- Examine your health plan benefits to make sure they cover substance use disorder treatment.
- Work with your Employee Assistance Program to offer resources for those seeking support groups/treatment.
- Ensure the workplace health plan requires evidence-based treatment protocols for substance use disorder
- Provide transitional return-to-work options for those reintegrating to the workplace after treatment.

Livin' R.E.A.L. with Grief

Life after a loss from substance abuse or a mental illness is devastating in ways that other deaths don't see. Loss of a loved one is hard and when you add stigmas, shame & shunning it can keep you frozen in grief. Whether you have experienced any ostracism or not, this co-ed support group can bring comfort, understanding, a safe place to express your true feelings, and a way to help others who feel similar to you.

If you have lost a loved one (related to you or not), please reach out to us for support.

LRG meets the 2nd Monday of Each Month

“The mentality and behavior of drug addicts and alcoholics is wholly irrational until you understand that they are completely powerless over their addiction and unless they have structured help, they have no hope.” ~ Russell Brand
